

Bio – Scott Edwards

Scott Edwards is the Hygienic Laundry Program Manager for Hohenstein Institute America. In this role since 2020, he works with food, hospitality and healthcare laundries to develop, improve and certify hygienic processes.

Scott previously served as the plant manager of industrial laundries where he worked to achieve TRSA Hygienically Clean, HLAC and ISO 9001 certifications. Before joining the industrial laundry industry in 2006, Scott managed production and industrial engineering in the automotive industry.

Scott holds a BBA degree in Organizational Management from Tiffin University and a Professional Laundry Manager Certification from TRSA.